Words of Encouragement

“The immutability of God is a perfection of the divine nature, and not just a single perfection but rather a glory belonging to all the attributes of God. God is whatever he has (that’s simplicity), and all that he is and all that he has can never change (that’s immutability). Immutability is what it means for God to be God. God cannot increase or grow, neither can he decrease or diminish, for any change in God presupposes room for improvement. As Francis Turretin puts it, ‘[God] can neither be changed for the better (because he is the best) nor for the worse (because he would cease to be the most perfect).’”
